ICT& E-RSC Stakeholders:

As follow-up to my letter dated Friday, February 26, 2010, and in response to questions raised by Stakeholders, I want to clarify the E-RSC’s process for receiving Stakeholder input on proposed ICT Enhancements as outlined below.

Stakeholder Input on SWG’s Initial List of Proposed Enhancements (9)

As stated in Friday’s letter, all interested Stakeholders should reply by this Friday, March 5, 2010, at 12 noon, indicating their support or opposition to the Staff Working Group’s (SWG’s) draft list of nine Enhancements included as Attachment 1 to the March 18 Draft Agenda sent on Friday and online at E-RSC Website. In order to help facilitate Stakeholder input in an orderly manner, attached with this letter is a matrix we are asking Stakeholders to use in providing their input. As you can see, the matrix has columns which: (1) allow Stakeholders to state whether they support or oppose each individual proposed Enhancement; (2) allow Stakeholders to elaborate on their support or opposition; and (3) allow Stakeholders to state whether they believe the Enhancement requires changes to the existing ICT tariff. When finished, the matrix should be returned to Ben Bright, on behalf of the E-RSC, by email to bbright@spp.org.

Stakeholder Input on the Remaining List of Proposed Enhancements (15)

The remaining list of stakeholder proposed Enhancements was included as Attachment 2 to the Draft Agenda sent last Friday. Detailed Stakeholder responses to these additional proposed Enhancements should be submitted by March 12, 2010, at 12 noon. As with the initial list, please indicate whether you believe a tariff amendment is necessary to make the proposed changes. Stakeholders are encouraged to make presentations at the March 18, 2010 E-RSC meeting to future explain their recommendations on the remaining list of proposed Enhancements and to be prepared to answer questions. As such, we ask that any Stakeholder wishing to make a presentation submit their presentation by March 12, 2010, at 12 noon. Please also include the presentation for distribution. Again, this information should be sent to Ben Bright, on behalf of the E-RSC, by email to bbright@spp.org.

As I have said before, please accept my sincere gratitude to each Stakeholder for its input on matters before the E-RSC. If you have any questions or want to offer suggested changes to this process or the March 18 Agenda, please let my E-RSC colleagues or me know.
Finally, please be aware that after the March 18 E-RSC meeting, the next face-to-face meeting of the E-RSC will be on April 22, 2010, in New Orleans, Louisiana.

Sincerely,
